Turnpike Studies Requested

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Turnpike Authority voted Tuesday to have in depth studies made of a western Arkansas corridor and on the possibility of connecting the existing four-lane highway between Little Rock and Pine Bluff.

The authority, in compliance with a recent attorney general's opinion, also voted to ask the state Highway Commission to enter into contracts for an overall feasibility study covering 1,200 miles of possible toll roads in the state.

The recent opinion said the authority had to do its work through the Highway Commission and could not enter into contracts until it received money from the sale of bonds.

The Highway Commission had

Faubus Claims He Knew of Job Demand

NORTH LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Former Gov. Orval E. Faubus said Tuesday night that he knew that Republicans had demanded half of the jobs in the Game and Fish Commission.

"I know this is true," said Faubus. "It happened while I was still in office, and I think this is the main reason for Mr. Rockefeller's action."

Faubus made the comments at the annual Boys State meeting at Camp Robinson.

In a statement supported by commission executive secretary Hugh Hackler, commissioner Raymond Farris of Bisbee charged that Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller asked for resignations of commission officials because Republicans were not given half the game and fish jobs.

Hackler said the GOP state executive secretary, Truman Altenbaumer, told him after Rockefeller's victory in November that the Republicans should be given the jobs.

Faubus also said he believed that reports on conditions in Arkansas' prisons had been "exaggerated and distorted."

He referred in particular to allegations of punishment by starvation when he was governor and Jim Bruton was superintendent at Tucker Prison Farm.

Faubus also said he didn't want to say he didn't have political plans in 1968. There have been reports that he will run against Sen. J. William Fulbright in 1968.

"There's such a thing as opportunities which, when passed, may not come again," Faubus said.

not signed the contracts authorizing the authority's proposed contracts for four studies and state highway director Ward Goodman said a letter the authority wrote the commission may have been the cause of a misunderstanding.

Goodman said the letter sounded like a "progress report" and the commission could not find any request for it to take action.

a nationwide rail tieup would be a disaster.

Johnson's bill would extend the no strike-no lockout period another 90 days during which intensive mediation efforts would take place under a special five-man board he would name.

But if no settlement were reached in this time, the board could make its own determination of fair terms and order these into effect until Jan. 1, 1969.

The unions labeled the plan compulsory arbitration in hearings on the bill and urged Congress to reject it. Administration officials insisted it varied from compulsory arbitration in several ways.

The railroads said they would go along with the proposal as the only apparently feasible way to avoid a strike at this time.

Senators who supported the union's position tried unsuccessfully to amend the bill in the Labor Committee and said they expected to renew their efforts in the floor debate.

Sen. Ralph Yarborough, D-Tex., lost narrowly in committee on a proposal to add a provision impounding the railroads' profits for the seizure period.

Yarborough said he was trying to find a way to "balance the scale" and not put all the pressure on the unions under the bill.

The unions contended that, under the President's proposal, they would lose the right to strike, would be forced to accept a government-decreed settlement of terms and undoubtedly would have to take lower pay scales than they could win with their own economic strength.

The Senate committee approved the measure 14 to 2 Tuesday after rejecting all major amendments.

The House Commerce Committee scheduled its final public hearings on the legislation for today.

Strike Eyed for Racial Incidents

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller, in answer to questions by 14 foreign journalists about possible racial incidents in Arkansas, said Tuesday he was watching a "tense" strike situation at the Ottenheimer Bros. Manufacturing Co. in Little Rock.

"This is the kind of thing on its own merits that is not a basis for race riots," Rockefeller said. "But something could spark it."

Rockefeller made the statement after he was asked if he could foresee anything that could bring about a situation in Little Rock similar to the 1957 incident surrounding the desegregation of Little Rock Central High School.

About 1,000 persons, mostly Negroes, struck the plant last October.

The touring journalists are traveling under the auspices of the World Press Institute.

Rockefeller said, in an answer to a question concerning justification of expenditures in Vietnam, that he would "rather spend that $2 million a month today to block encroachment of Communism" rather than waiting for it to "reach our doorstep and require $4 or $5 million a day."

Rockefeller was asked whom he would support for the 1968 Republican presidential nomination. He said he would like to see Arkansas go to the convention uncommitted.

Haiti was the world's first Negro republic.

Raiders Are Sought in New Mexico

By JAKE BOOHER

CANJILON, N.M. (AP) — A 500-man task force is beginning to wonder if a defiant band of Spanish-Americans has successfully escaped an intensive search in the rugged northern New Mexico mountains.

The task force was out again today to continue the search but leaders said they were considering a reduction in strength.

A search Tuesday, one of the largest manhunts in New Mexico history, turned up only one leader of the group.

The Spanish-Americans raided the Rio Arriba County courthouse at Tierra Amarilla Monday, with their gunfire critically wounding two officers. The group was tracked by state police, deputies and National Guardsmen into the Carson National Forest east of Canjilon.

After the arrest Tuesday of one well-known member of the group, Gerry Noll of Albuquerque, State Police Chief Joe Black said it was believed the fugitives might be making their way south toward the Rio Arriba County community of Coyote.

Noll, who was under federal indictment for assaulting federal officers and conversion of government property, was arrested south of Canjilon in Navajo Canyon.

The Spanish-Americans group contends its members are heirs to vast regions of the southwest under old Spanish land grants. They took over a campground in the Carson Forest last October for about four days to press these claims.

Their leader, Reles Tijerina, had threatened a showdown of force at Coyote last Saturday but 11 of his lieutenants were arrested the previous night and no incidents occurred.

But when seven of those arrested were taken to the court-house Monday and advised of their rights by District Court Judge James Scarborough, a group of armed men stormed into the building and wounded two officers with gunfire.

Taking two hostages, later released unharmed, the gunmen fled toward Canjilon.

Both officers remained in critical condition. State policeman Nick Sals must undergo surgery for a chest wound. Jaller Elugio Salazar is hospitalized with head and shoulder wounds.

Some 50 persons, termed by police "sympathizers" to the group, were rounded up Monday and kept for 24 hours in a barbed wire livestock pen, guarded by National Guardsmen.

They were released, Black said, because some of them did not have food and because "they no longer posed a threat."

Among those in the pen was Tijerina's son, Reles Jr., in his 20s.

The National Guard units were equipped with two M42 tanks but there was no 40mm ammunition for their guns, Adj. Gen. John P. Jolly said he would not use the ammunition if he had it, that the tanks were only to "prove that we mean business."

The guardsmen were armed with rifles, Jolly said he had orders "to shoot to kill, if necessary."

Sterling Silver

Charles Lewis Tiffany, the famous jeweler, was the first to establish the term "sterling" in the United States, thereby adding to the prestige of his firm. Tiffany had adopted the standards of English silver in 1851 in his jewelry manufacturing business, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

Jews in New York Willing to Help Out

NEW YORK (AP) — Two girls sit on the steps, mimeographed sheets in hand. They're registration forms, written in Hebrew, and every hour more and more Israelis mount the steps and fill out one.

Name, Israeli army registration number, army division and where you can be reached in New York.

This has been the scene at the Israeli Consulate at 11 E. 70th St., just off Fifth Avenue, since the war broke out early Monday in the Middle East.

Surrounding the girls are scores of waiting Israelis, mostly young students in this country. They wait for news of the war, clustered around transistor radios. And they wait to go back to Israel.

Many have bought airline tickets back. But there have been no commercial planes for the past two days because of the fighting there.

"I guess I'm stuck with a $465 ticket," one young man remarked.

In the consulate lobby, men and women sit patiently, reading the latest English language and Hebrew papers, with the older ones piling up on the table and on the floor. Empty coffee cups speak of hours of waiting for news and for passport renewals.

Not all those waiting are Israelis; some are Americans, offering their help.

"We have received more than 200 American and Canadian applications a day," said a spokesman for a Jewish American youth organization.

The organization has a summer program of sending teenagers to work on the farm co-operatives in Israel.

But "in response to the immediate needs of Israel," he said, "the program was stepped up from two months to three" to replace Israelis who have gone into armed service.

"Last week, about 100 Americans went over."

An Israeli spokesman said the consulate had received thousands of telephone calls over the past three weeks, offering "help of all kinds."

Favorable to Convention

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Arkansas State Chamber of Commerce members voted nearly two to one in favor of holding a constitutional convention to draft a new charter, a poll conducted this week revealed.

The vote was 289-130 with 18 having no opinions whether a new constitution should be drafted. The vote in favor of holding a constitutional convention was 256-120. Fifty had no opinion, and 27 did not vote.

ASCC members voted against lowering the voting age to the draft level of 18 years of age, and were against a unicameral legislature, Annual legislative sessions and a four-year term for the governor were favored by the members.

A generation generally is considered as being 33 years, thus allowing three generations to a century.

Cubans Blame War on U.S.

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Havana radio says that "the American and English imperialists are using Israel as a beachhead to impede the integration of the Arabs."

"There is war in the Middle East because Israel serves imperialism economically and ideologically and because the Arab peoples refuse to serve that way," the broadcast, monitored in Miami, said.

The broadcast Tuesday night concluded: "The Arab peoples are rightfully defending their sovereignty and their honor. The people of Cuba are on their side."

Couldn't Wish Them Success

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — John W. Gardner, Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, told about 990 University of Arkansas graduates Saturday night that, "Life is a process, and meaning is in the process."

Gardner said life is an "endless unfolding" and not a "mountain that has a summit or a game that has an end."

"You are the only one who can put the ingredients together," Gardner told the graduates. "I will wish you meaning in your life—something you build in your life."

Gardner said that success, as it is measured today, is to ease and therefore he could not wish the graduates success.

Wedding Vows Are Repeated

Miss Suzanne Day Booth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Duffie Day Booth, became the bride of Kelly Ross White at 10 a.m. Saturday, June 3 in the First Presbyterian Church at Hope.

Mr. White is the son of Mrs. Ava Dell White of Mount Ida and the late Willie J. White.

Dr. L. T. Lawrence, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, performed the double-ring ceremony. Mrs. R. L. Gosnell, organist, presented the nuptial music.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a full length gown of white organza over taffeta with applique of lace sprinkled with tiny pearls. The train fell chapel length from the shoulders. Her illusion veil was held by a petal shaped head dress and she carried a cascade bouquet of white roses.

The bride's only attendant was her sister, Miss Sally Booth, who wore a floor length yellow linen dress and carried a cascade of shasta daisies.

The two mothers wore corsets of fleur-de-amour.

Lewis Crigger of Mount Ida served Mr. White as best man, uphers were Rex Lawrence of Mount Ida and Deloy Snow, Philip Kelley and Jim Collins all of Dallas.

They will be at home in Little Rock at the Chateau de Ville Apartments after June 15th.

MISS SHEILA WILSON HONORED WITH SHOWER

On Saturday, June 3, Miss Sheila Wilson was honored with a miscellaneous bridal shower at the home of Mrs. Willie Carter.

She was presented a clever Kitchen corsage. Assorted cookies and punch was served to 20 guests.

She received many lovely and useful gifts. Hostesses were Mrs. Dail Clayton, Miss Peggy Finigan and Mrs. Billy Rosenbaum.

DUPLICATE CLUB MEETS

Dr. and Mrs. George Wright entertained the Hope Duplicate Bridge Club at their home on Monday evening, June 5 with three tables of players taking part. They included Mrs. C. L. Peacock of Libral, Kan.

Winning couples were: first, Mrs. Taylor Stuart and Mrs. J. C. Broyles; second, Mrs. Syd McMath and Mrs. R. L. Broach; third, Mrs. Bill Wray and Mrs. Emmett Thompson.

OFFICERS INSTALLED

Mrs. Jim James installed new officers for the Hope Council of Garden Clubs Monday morning, June 5 at the Hope Chamber of Commerce office. The new president, Mrs. Chris Petre set forth tentative plans for the new year, and definite plans were laid for participation in the Poultry Festival to be held in Hope on Saturday, June 10.

Man Chooses to Go to Hell, Revivalist Says

They flocked in, packed the main floor of First Baptist Church sanctuary and again overflowed into the balcony to hear the preaching last night of Angel Martinez, dynamic Southern Baptist evangelist. Delegations were present from as far away as Camden, Magnolia and Arkadelphia.

Twelve persons responded to the invitation, bringing the three-day total to 35 decisions for Christ. The sermon topic, "Where Are the Dead?", was taken from the 12th chapter of Ecclesiastes. In effect, the evangelist said:

"There is a heaven and a hell and the grave no longer holds us. Life is real and everlasting beyond the grave, and Christian people down through the centuries have held to a common belief that a Man crucified nearly 2000 years ago still lives today.

"And if such forthright testimonials can be found down through the centuries, then it should be clear that Jesus Christ has something to offer everybody—everywhere.

"The moment a Christian dies, his spirit leaves the body, goes to heaven—to paradise, and the first face he sees is that of Jesus Christ. In heaven the Christian has eternal fellowship with God. You never lose any of your loved ones who go to heaven. Therefore, the funeral of a Christian is something to look forward to.

"The best way to get close to a loved one who has gone on is to get close to Christ. When we get close to Christ, we can 'feel' the presence of the loved one.

"Where are the other Dead?" In hell. Hell is eternal separation from God. Hell is everlasting darkness. There's no sunrise. Why do men go to hell? It's because he chooses to do so. It's because he revolts, defies. He's stubborn, rebellious.

"God endowed man with a brain, with the capacity to think, and gave him a freedom of choice. God doesn't send man to hell because he gets drunk, because he robs a bank, or even commits murder. Man goes to hell because he chooses to do so. He refuses to believe, to trust. He rejects Christ and refuses to go to heaven. The Bible says so . . . For God So Loved the World . . . (John 3:16).

"We shouldn't have to beg man to go to heaven. He should run down the aisle every time an invitation is given, but he doesn't. Man is rebellious. But he still has a choice through the goodness and mercies of God. Every person is one heartbeat away from death. Don't gamble with a heartbeat. Come to Christ and be prepared for eternity."

Sermon topic for Wednesday night: "As the World Turns," a special for the ladies, as well as others. It's no re-run. It's alive. It's the real thing.

Thursday night Mr. Martinez will give his own personal conversion experience. Night services at 7:30. Morning services at 10 a.m.

Fashion Show Produced a Variety

By JEAN SPRAIN WILSON

AP Fashion Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Leather egg roll toppers tied under the chin, thigh high boots, mini crowns and cowboy hats, mink shoes and coon-cuffed britches were a part of a show put on by manikins modelling Jacques Tiffau's fall fashion collection.

As circus music blared in his tiny showroom Tuesday, gun-toting cow-girls, ladies in leotards, and strippers too, burst into their acts.

But the starring team were the three Ms, Mini, Midi and Minuet. They represented the lengths Tiffau is allowing hemlines to grow to this winter.

The Minuet was the sweet old fashioned girl with bands of mink on her mini skirt to match her mink shoes.

The Midi was usually a coat stopping between the knee and the ankle. The longer the coat the shorter the dress underneath. However the combination is a humane solution to the mini-madness during the long hard winter ahead.

Other frost thwarting schemes Tiffau offered were leather boots higher than a trout fisherman's and mink baby caps with furry tails that tied at the nape of the neck. Still other hot ideas were slacks of grape-hued mole and a skirt and jacket costume of green-tinged mole.

And who could overlook the khaki colored britches with the coon cuffs worn under a very short shift?

Occasionally a playful manikin stripped off her long skirt to show off her short one, or her electric-hued long johns with the turtle neck collar that reached the ears.

Under an umpteen thousand dollar sable that reached the ankles one miss audaciously wore orange neon knit long johns.

Other eye-blinking color combinations in the fashion circus included a fluorescent pink midi with sleeveless ring colored coat over stithery black leather mini skirt and topper.

Despite these theatrical aspects, the basic apparel was typical of the French imported designer.

Jackets were of the jaunty Eisenhower or smock type over softly gathered skirts, worn with sleeveless ring colored blouses.

LAS VEGAS, Neb. (AP) — "At least I set a record. I'm the first man in history to sink an entire network."

That was useful humor of Bill Dana as he discussed the demise of "The Las Vegas Show," which he headed for 26 programs. The two-hour nightly variety show came to an end last week when the United Network folded operations for lack of cash.

"The Las Vegas Show" was the first attraction of a proposed fourth network headed by former ABC boss Oliver Treyt. It turned out to be the last attraction as well.

"This appears to be the definite case of 'the operation was a success, but the patient died,'" said Dana in a post-mortem interview.

"I can only ascribe the failure of the enterprise to the consumer's mate naivete on the part of the backers. The whole thing went against all principles of sound fiscal policy. Even if you open a candy store, you should have enough capitalization to last more than three or four weeks."

United Network folded after a month of operation, and its passing was lamented by those who welcomed its promise as competition to the monolithic programming of the Big Three. Dana feels the failure could have been avoided.

"If they had blown the whistle earlier, I think the whole operation could have been saved," said the comedian whose portrayal of Jose Jimenez has overshadowed his other accomplishments as writer—the Steve Allen show—and producer—the Milton Berle show.

He argued that the Las Vegas show was perfectly sound on the basis of cost-per-thousand—a Madison Avenue term reflecting the ratio of production charges vs. the audience delivered. Audience surveys, said Dana, showed that the program was delivering an audience of 2,600,000, a respectable figure considering its estimated $180,000 weekly cost, not including telephone line charges.

"The backers made the mistake of beginning the show in the last quarter of the advertising budget cycle, when little new outlay is being made," he said. "Even so, we were beginning to pick up. After the third week, we were getting sponsorship from Colgate, General Foods and General Mills. And just a day before the cancellation, the mighty J. Walter Thompson was coming in."

But, said Dana, United Network's "tremendous under-capitalization" could not sustain the continuing costs.

GOP Grumbles Over Events in War Area

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Charles H. Percy urges congressional review of State Department planning amid increasing GOP grumbling over other aspects of administration actions in the Middle East crisis.

Percy, considered a possibility for the Republican presidential nomination next year, said in an interview the government's handling of the Arab-Israeli clash "left grave questions in my mind about the quality of our advance planning."

Picturing himself as a non-neutral supporter of Israel, the Illinois senator said despite many advance signs of trouble in the Middle East the State Department was still doing research this week on whether the United States had a commitment to Israel.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen noted grumbling in GOP ranks.

He told newsmen Republican senators complained at a meeting Tuesday about a lack of "hard facts" in administration briefings, adding: "I think they expected a little larger body of facts."

Another potential contender for the GOP presidential nod in 1968, Michigan Gov. George Romney, urged President Johnson to "insist that conditions in the Middle East insure the true preservation of the national integrity and independence of Israel."

In a telegram to Johnson, Romney pledged his support to U.S. efforts to end Middle East hostilities, which he called tragic.

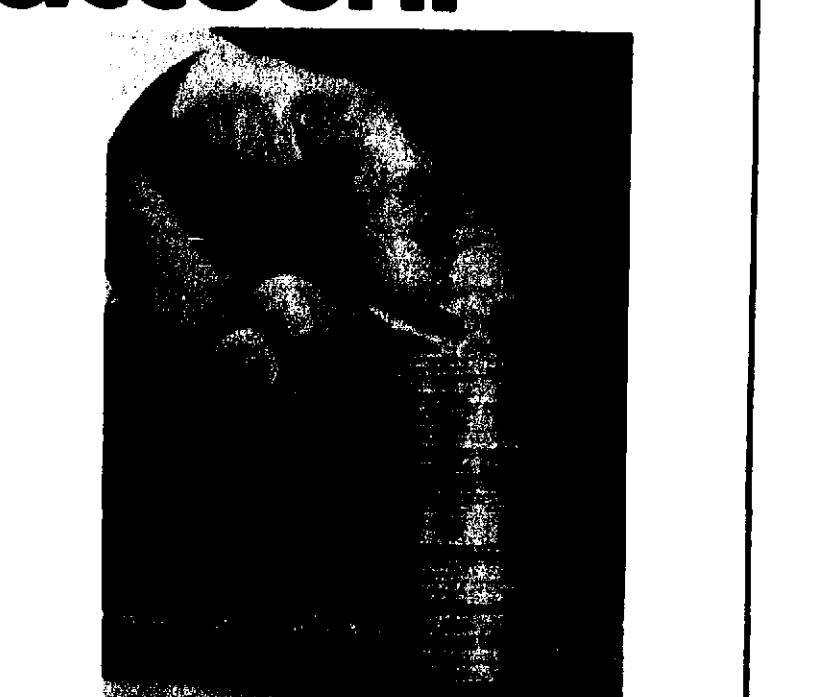

In Sacramento, Calif., GOP Gov. Ronald Reagan said the "real villain" of the Middle East crisis is the Soviet Union, which he said is "probably as anti-semitic" as Nazi Germany. Reagan planned to appear at a Sunday rally in Los Angeles in support of the Israeli cause.

Percy, arguing that Middle East danger signals had been burning red for months, contended the United States should have had its moves planned and all the questions answered.

"Congress has the responsibility to determine the quality of our forward planning," said Percy. But he declined to say who should conduct such a probe of State Department planning.

Sheriff's Team Clings to First

By: RALPH ROUNTON

Sheriff's Department held first place, rival Midwest Dairy staying close, as each posted easy victories in Little League Baseball action last night at Legion Field.

With strong hitting and good pitching, the Midwest boys romped over the Barry's Quicks nine to the tune of 13-2. Danny Boyette and Mike Piegner combined for a 4-hitter for the Dairymen.

In the opening game of the evening Sheriff's Dept. survived an early scare from last place Lions Club before pulling out a 9-5 victory. An eight run explosion in the third inning which sent 12 batters to the plate provided the winning margin.

Hope Auto blasted Century Bible Class 10-1, pulling into a third place tie with CBC. Pitcher Bob Pierce won his own game, scattering 7 hits on the defense, and offensively by crashing a two-run homer.

Three Games at City Park Last Night

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Dallas-Fort Worth Spurs overcame a three-run deficit in the fifth inning and went on to a 6-4 victory over the Arkansas Travelers Tuesday night.

The Travelers led 3-0 after four innings and righthander Ted Friel hadn't allowed a hit. The Spurs got four in the fifth, including three on catcher Jim Saul's home run.

The Spurs scored two insurance runs in the eighth on Jim Wilson's double.

The Travs loaded the bases in the fourth. Biff Bracy and Tommy Smith hit consecutive sacrifice flies and Art Deras singled home the third run.

Veteran Don Larsen pitched out of a jam in the eighth to preserve the victory. Larsen struck out Bracy and Smith for the last two outs of the inning and left runners stranded on second and third.

Amarillo, the Texas League leaders, scored two runs in the fourth inning and four more in the fifth, and routed Albuquerque, 7-3.

El Paso moved into a tie with Arkansas for second place, defeating Austin, 7-3, at El Paso. El Paso pounded out 11 hits in the victory.

Mets Prove Strong in Extra Play

By ED SCHUYLER JR.

Face it—the Pittsburgh Pirates did—the New York Mets are not paties when it comes to extra inning games.

The lowly Mets took the field for a doubleheader in Pittsburgh Tuesday night without having scored a run in 18 innings.

They ran this string to 27 before winning the first game 1-0 in 10 innings and then came right back to take the nightcap 3-2, also in 10 innings, giving them a 6-0 record in extra inning games this season.

The loser both times—Elroy Face.

Houston beat St. Louis, Cincinnati edged San Francisco and Atlanta edged Los Angeles, each by a 3-2 score, and Philadelphia beat the Chicago Cubs 8-6 and 9-8 in other National League action.

In the American League, Detroit clobbered Kansas City 11-1 and 7-1; the New York Yankees downed Washington 7-1; Boston topped the Chicago White Sox 5-3; Cleveland and Minnesota split, Cleveland winning the first game 6-4 in 10 innings and losing the nightcap 7-1, and Baltimore trounced California twice, 16-4 and 11-1.

"The boys seem to play better when the games are closer and longer," said Mets' Manager Wes Westrum.

For Face, who had started the night with a 4-0 record, they were too close and too long.

The veteran relief ace took over in each game after the starting pitcher had been lifted for a pinch hitter in the ninth inning.

In the first game he gave up a single to Tommy Davis, a single to Jerry Buchek, which moved Davis to third, and Ken Boyer's sacrifice fly. He was greeted by Ron Swoboda's home run in the nightcap.

Swoboda tripled home the Mets' first run in the second inning and scored the second one in the fourth when he doubled and raced all the way home after the ball slipped away from center fielder Matty Alou.

The Pirates scored on Willie Stargell's two-run triple in the third.

Mets' rookie right-hander Tom Seaver was hit by a pitch on his right elbow in the seventh inning of the opener. X rays proved negative.

A two-run homer by John Bateman and Jim Wynn's solo shot powered Houston past St. Louis. Mike Shannon hit a bases-empty homer for St. Louis.

Cincinnati also got a two-run homer—by Tony Perez—and a bases-empty shot—by Vada Pinson—in beating San Francisco for its fifth straight victory, each by one run. Ollie Brown hit a solo homer for the Giants.

Two intentional walks to Atlanta's Hank Aaron proved to be Los Angeles' downfall.

Joe Torre singled home Mack Jones following a walk to Aaron in the sixth inning and then broke a 2-2 tie in the eighth by singling in Jones again after another pass to Aaron.

Denny Lemaster, aided by two bases-loaded double plays, won his sixth game against one loss although he yielded 12 hits.

Philadelphia won each of its games in the eighth inning on hits by veteran Johnny Callison and seldom-used reserve Phil Linz.

Callison's two-out, two-run single broke a 6-6 tie in the first game. Linz' two-out single broke an 8-8 tie by capping a three-run rally in the second game.

Richie Allen hit a two-run homer for the Phillies in the second game. Randy Hundley and Adolfo Phillips homered for the Cubs in the opener.

Curt Drives in 7 Runs for Orioles

By MIKE RECHT

Curt Blefary, whose home run hitting collapsed in May under a heavy pile of lumber, has lightened his load in June and now he's bustin' out all over.

The big left-fielder hammered three home runs, including his second grand slam of the season, and drove in seven runs in Baltimore's 16-4 first game victory over California in a two-night doubleheader Tuesday.

He also singled home two runs and hit a sacrifice fly for another in the second game triumph.

"I borrowed a 30-ounce bat from Vic Roznovsky," Blefary explained after hitting his first homers since May 10. "I had been using a 36-ounce, but with the lighter bat I was able to whip through a lot better."

Everyone joined in Detroit's 22-hit barrage at Kansas City where the league-leading Tigers crushed the A's 11-1 and 7-1 in a two-night doubleheader.

Harmon Killebrew also unloaded, slaming a home run in each game as the Minnesota Twins split another two-nighter, losing the first 6-4 to Cleveland in 10 innings before winning 7-1.

In other American League games, New York bombarded Washington 7-1 and the Chicago White Sox stopped Boston 5-3.

In the National League, Philadelphia swept a pair from Chicago 8-5 and 9-8; the New York Mets surprised Pittsburgh twice in 10 innings, 1-0 and 3-2, and Cincinnati beat San Francisco, Atlanta tumbled Los Angeles and Houston defeated St. Louis, all by 3-2 scores.

Blefary, who beat out much-heralded Mike Epstein for the left-field job by hitting five homers in the Orioles' first 16 games, had only six homers entering the doubleheader.

"I went home run crazy earlier this year, trying to hit everything out of the park," he said, "and I got fouled up. But I think I'll stay with this bat for a while as long as it's working like that."

The Orioles clobbered seven Angel pitcher for 18 hits, making rookie Bill Dillman's third victory without a loss an easy matter.

Tom Phoebus, 5-1, who had his scoreless streak snapped at 31 innings by his own throwing error, chipped in with a run-scoring single and a home run as he breezed in the second game. Brooks Robinson also homered.

The Tigers, increasing their lead over the White Sox to two games, did some of their swinging with fists in a free-for-all that emptied both benches in the seventh inning of the second game.

It started when one of John "Blue Moon" Odom's pitches sailed over the head of Detroit's Dick McAuliffe and the two closed in on each other. Both benches rushed in and Ossie Chavarria of the A's and Hank Aguirre of the Tigers exchanged blows and it took eight minutes

3 Scores Overcome by Spurs

Last night at City Park the Little League program was in progress at 6:00 o'clock. There were three games on tap. First game, Merchants defeated Lucy's Cafe by a score of 11-10. It was tussle and bustle going into the 5th inning—score was tied 10-10 with the Merchants pushing over a run in the bottom of the 5th to pull out the victory. Winning pitcher was Alfred Johnson—Loser pitcher was B. Noble.

In second game Young Chevrolet defeated Hardee—Powell by a score of 15-2. It was Young Chevrolet all the way, scoring 4 in the 1st—that was enough cushion for Raymond Williamson to go all the way, whereas the losing pitcher for Hardee—Powell Grocery was Larry Monk.

Third and final game—Wire Products squeaked out a victory over Lloyd's Grocery by the score of 10-9. It was another thriller for the crowd as Wire Products scored the final and decisive run in the top of the 5th by Darryl Muldrew stealing home.

Little league play will resume Friday evening June 9th at 6:00 o'clock. The managers are doing a tremendous job and we take this method of showing our appreciation by publicly thanking each of them. Please come out and encourage the little boys.

U.S. Open Still Eludes Sam Snead

By DICK GREEN

The old man sat there and waited, his brightly-banded straw hat on the bench beside him.

He just sat and waited, one trademark beside him and another behind him.

Then the word came. The cutoff was 146. And Sam Snead, the 55-year-old possessor of all the world's great golfing titles—except one—had missed. For the second straight year he failed to qualify for the U.S. Open, the only major title that has eluded him.

"I could have kicked the ball better than I hit it," snorted the old West Virginia mountaineer after he missed by two strokes in the qualifying round at Detroit Tuesday.

He still had the dapper hat, the same style that rode with him through his heyday, a time that now stretches back through the decades. But the trademark, "the sweetest swing in the land," was gone.

"I drove pretty well," said Snead, who has won more than 100 major tournaments in a professional career that stretches back 33 years, "but I've never hit worse irons since I turned pro."

He shot a 73-75—148 over the par 35-36—71 Tam CShanter Country Club course, then hung around the clubhouse for more than an hour while the rest of the field struggled in—waiting to see if he had made it into his 26th Open.

He didn't. A field of 24 qualified at Detroit, from 68 who had made it through preliminary rounds, as the Open qualifying was completed with smaller fields from Los Angeles, San Francisco, Washington, Atlanta, Pittsburgh and Dallas.

In all, 56 players qualified Tuesday, along with 67 who had made it the day before. Those, along with the 27 who were exempt from all qualifying rounds—including most of the big name touring pros—make up the 150 man field that will compete for the national championship at the Baltusrol course at Springfield, N.J., June 15-18.

Other major casualties included former PGA champion Jerry Barber, who missed with a 149 at Los Angeles, former Amateur champion Bill Campbell, Huntington, W.Va., who shot an 80-71—151 at Washington, and former PGA champ Bob Rosburg, who picked up at Detroit.

U.S. Cagers in Exciting Victory

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay (AP) — The United States pulled out an exciting 59-58 victory over Russia on a last-minute basket by Mike Barrett of West Virginia Wesleyan in the World Basketball Championships.

The victory Tuesday night made the Americans favored to win the title in the round-robin final round that ends Sunday.

Counting three triumphs in qualifying play it was their sixth in a row against no defeats. After an open date today, they play Yugoslavia Thursday, Poland on Friday and Brazil on Sunday.

Brazil beat Poland 90-85 in Tuesday's other game.

Russia plays Uruguay and Yugoslavia meets Argentina in tonight's doubleheader.

CHURCH ENTERTAINS
An idea originated in the mind of deacon C. G. Carmichael has become common practice at the Lenoke Baptist Church. At the end of each school year the officers sponsors an activity honoring the members of the graduating class who are members of the church.

The dining room of the church was beautifully decorated with spring flowers and a very short program was presented. Mrs. Ethel Bizzell spoke from the subject: Don't Take A Short Cut. She emphasized the importance of evading the short cut in furthering their education. Principal Boy and Supervisor Rutherford also gave fatherly advice to those present.

A Bible game was conducted by Miss Minnie B. McKillian and Mrs. Martha Sorrell. Miss Brenda Williams was the winner in the game. All expressed themselves as having a very enjoyable evening. Some stated that they did not know that so much fun could be had at a church affair.

A very delicious refreshment plate was served by the ladies of the church, and gifts were presented.

PERSONAL MENTION
Making the spring semester honor roll is Miss Gwendolyn Douglas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ote Douglas of Hope. Miss Douglas is presently classified as a senior, majoring in social work. She has accepted a position in

WIN AT BRIDGE

Slam Is Overbid And Over-made

By Oswald & James Jacoby
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

One of the best ways to get a good score either in duplicate or rubber bridge is to bid too much and then make your contract. This procedure is not recommended as a steady diet. You don't make enough of these unsound contracts to pay for times when you get set.

Armin Speer of East Orange, N.J., had a minimum or possibly sub-minimum no-trump opening. His partner carried him to six spades with good distribution but only 11 high card points.

Armin won the club opening and studied dummy unhappily. He noted that there was no way for him to make his contract unless West held the ace of hearts and that he also had to locate the queen of diamonds.

He took his medicine quickly and led the nine of hearts at trick two. West ducked and dummy's king held the trick. East won the heart return with the jack and led a trump. Armin won in his own hand, led a club and ruffed in dummy, ruffed a heart, ruffed his nine of clubs in hopes that the queen might fall. He ruffed dummy's last heart in his own hand with the ace and noted that West dropped a diamond. Led his low spade to dummy. Then he played dummy's last trump. East had to follow and Armin paused to count the hand. West had shown up with only one trump and three hearts. Therefore he had started with either five clubs and four diamonds or four clubs and five diamonds. In either even Armin decided to hold his jack of clubs as a threat against West and to let a diamond go.

West dropped a third diamond and everything looked wonderful. Armin led a diamond to his king and his last diamond back to dummy. When West followed to that diamond lead Armin went right up with dummy's king and picked up East's queen and to make his slam.

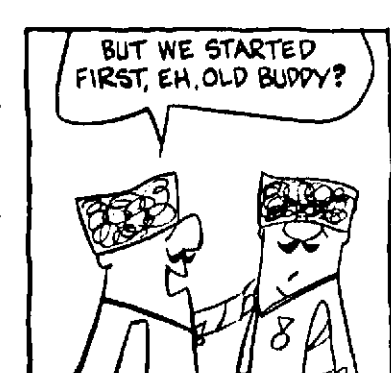

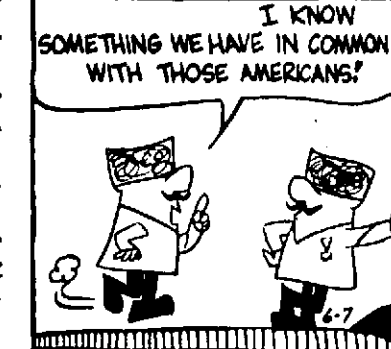

This last play was a certainty. West's one remaining card was known to be the queen of clubs. It couldn't be the queen of diamonds.

The Berkey Direct Screen System produces fast, predictable daily ROP editorial and advertising color

FROM THE BIG CITIES

Prior to purchasing the Berkey Direct Screen System, the Chicago Tribune employed conventional direct screening methods on a process camera with carbon arcs. The yellow printer exposure averaged 20 minutes.

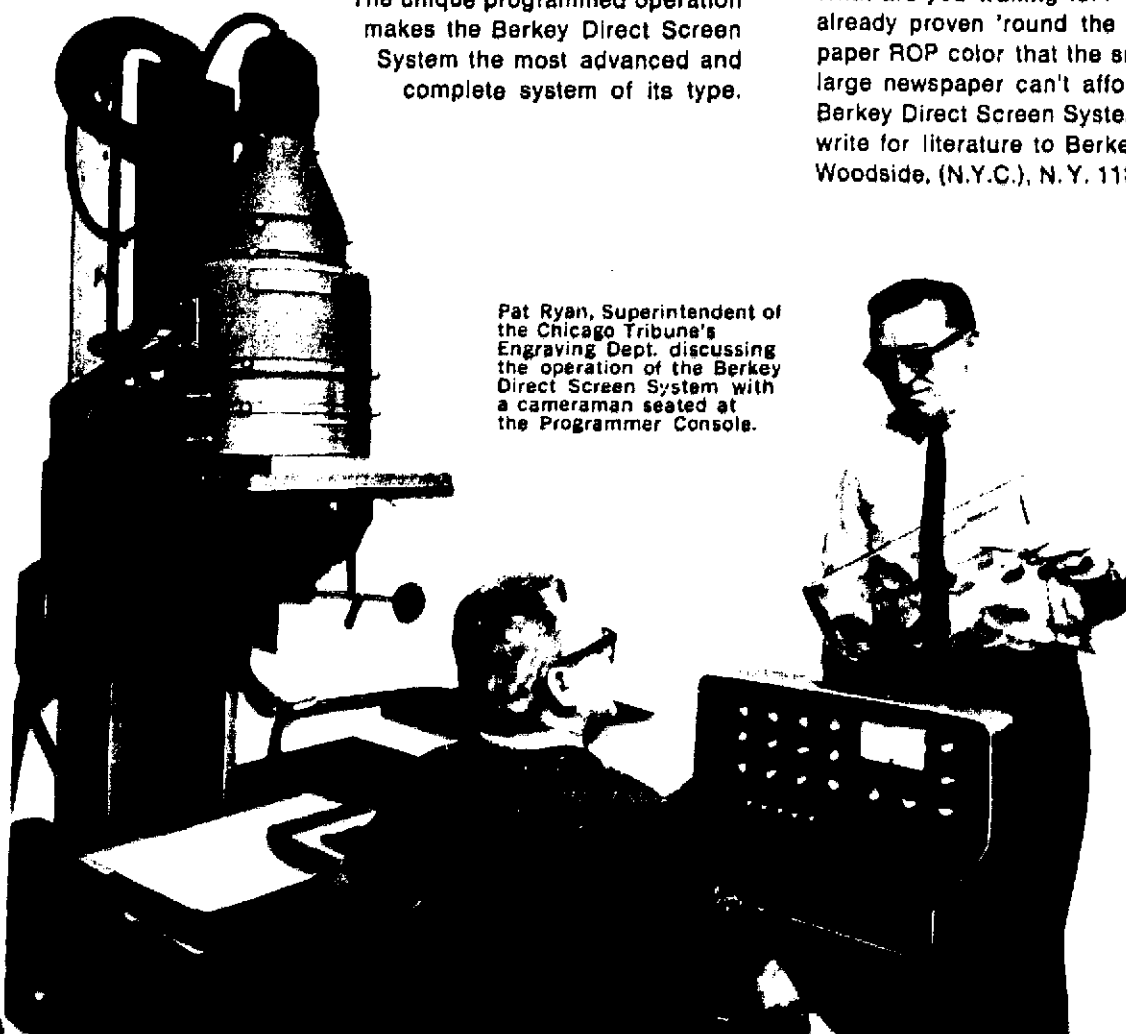

Now in startling contrast, their average exposure has been reduced to 35 seconds, utilizing the Berkey Direct Screen System with the Ascorlux light source.

The unique programmed operation makes the Berkey Direct Screen System the most advanced and complete system of its type.

The Hope (Ark.) Star has been receiving nationwide acclaim since it began printing color produced by the Berkey Direct Screen System (the very same Omega 8 x 10 model employed by the Chicago Tribune). Newspapers of every size have contacted the Hope Star for information about their color operation. Their general reaction has been, "If this small community newspaper can print fast, inexpensive color, what are we waiting for?"

What are you waiting for? The Berkey Direct Screen System, already proven 'round the world, is a breakthrough in newspaper ROP color that the small newspaper can afford and the large newspaper can't afford to be without. Your Authorized Berkey Direct Screen System Dealer will show you why... or write for literature to Berkey Technical Corp., 25-15 50th St., Woodside, (N.Y.C.), N.Y. 11377, U.S.A.

National Publicity for Hope

Reproduced in adjoining columns is a national advertisement linking Hope Star with the Chicago Tribune which Berkey Photo is running in graphic arts trade journals reaching every newspaper in the United States and Canada.

The advertisement appeared in the June 3 issue of Publisher's Auxiliary, Washington, D. C.; it is running in Editor & Publisher magazine, New York, June 10; and it will appear in the July issue of American Press, Chicago.

As the advertisement points out, Chicago Tribune and Hope Star have identical 8x10 models of the Berkey color separator.

The Star began production on its Berkey machine in January, the first two process color printings being from separation negatives made by the co-inventor, Norwegian Arve Jensen, now of New York, while calibrating the Berkey in The Star's plant for automatic operation.

A third color production was made by outside color experts, but for the last three months the Berkey machine has been run entirely by The Star's staff — of which the Norfolk Lake picture on this page is the latest production.

With little choice left under protocol's tit-for-tat procedures, the State Department called in the Egyptian and Algerian ambassadors here to announce reciprocal breaking of relations by the United States.

Of immediate U.S. concern was the safety of some 40,000 American residents left in the troubled zone including Israel and her 13 hostile Arab neighbors stretching from the Near East through North Africa.

Egypt ordered out all American nationals there. They were reported being sent by bus, train and car to the port of Alexandria to await evacuation by chartered commercial ships. Twenty U.S. military trans-

The technical value of this picture lies in the fact that it demonstrates the great range and versatility of The Star's Berkey color separator. The picture was reproduced directly—without any intermediate steps—from a 35mm. Kodachrome "frame" the size of the black oblong just above this paragraph. Actually the Berkey machine will enlarge 50 per cent more than this, but our space was limited to a full page's width.

The original Kodachrome, together with the four separation negatives from the Berkey machine, were made by Alex. H. Washburn, The Star's editor & publisher.

The scene is 10 miles east of Mountain Home, where a ferry takes automobile traffic across Norfolk Lake. Just beyond the eastern terminal of the ferry is an overlook, and that's where the camera went into action—looking northward.

It was a day in mid-August, 1965, when the editor and L. Carter Johnson of Hope were heading home from their float trip on White River, pictured in our previous Color Show last month.

The Norfolk Lake ferry has some strange tales to tell. Actually there are two ferry-boats and two entirely different routes. If you are running east across Arkansas you catch the U.S. 62 ferry, on your way to Salem and Ash Flat, thence south to Batesville. But if you make a mistake and catch the ferry for State 101 you go up the lake instead of crossing it and find yourself in Bakersfield, Mo. It's happened to more than one unwary tourist party—but having been forewarned, Johnson and the editor examined their boat closely before driving onto it.

Roosevelt Loses Race for Mayor

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Elliott Roosevelt was out of office today as mayor of Miami Beach after losing a runoff race to Jay Dermer.

Dermer, 37, untested politically prior to a May 16 primary in which he placed second in a five-man field, smashed Roosevelt's bid for re-election.

Roosevelt, 56, son of the late port planes were flying from Europe to Wheelus Air Base in Libya to help airlift out Americans, the Pentagon said. An estimated 9,000 U.S. citizens are in Libya.

Chartered commercial planes figured in evacuation plans for Americans in Lebanon and Syria.

Roosevelt's administration, Dermer charged, was pitted by bickering and fighting that spoiled its effectiveness.

Dermer trailed Roosevelt by almost 2,000 votes in the May 16 primary that trimmed the field in Miami Beach's nonpartisan election.

Roosevelt was elected mayor in 1965 when he defeated incumbent Melvin Richard, a veteran of 16 years in the city's political life.

Shakeup in Athletic Districts

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Executive Committee of the Arkansas Athletic Association has instructed Executive Secretary Johnie Burnett to draw up a plan for realignment of the AAA's districts.

Some coaches have proposed a fifth classification be formed but Burnett said the executive committee did not feel a need for another classification.

Burnett said the creation of another classification would probably mean a fifth state tournament and he did not think the coaches wanted that.

Burnett said the proposed re-districting will put emphasis on geographic location of natural rivals, rather than equalization of the number of teams in the districts.

The Executive Committee of the AAA also recommended that all four state track meets be held at Little Rock. The meets are currently being rotated between Ouachita Baptist University at Arkadelphia, Harding College at Searcy, State College at Conway and Russellville High School.

Blind Woman Is Ordained

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP) — The Rev. Kay Zimmerman was ordained Sunday at a service in Macalester Presbyterian Church here.

This week she moves into a parsonage next to Community Presbyterian Church at Grand Rapids, Minn., where she will be associate pastor.

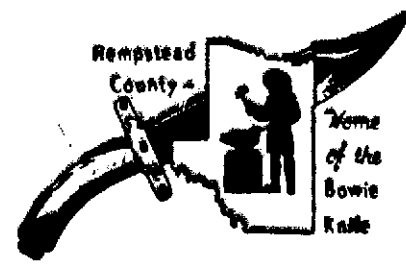

With her will be her constant companion, a guide dog called Cessa, Miss Zimmerman, 25, who is blind, graduated from Macalester College in 1964 and last week completed three years' study at McCormick Theological Seminary, Chicago.

Color Run Today
Tight Schedule
Chicago and Spa

Hope Star today presents its seventh process color photograph, Lake Norfolk on the back page — the fourth consecutive production by The Star staff running the Berkeley color separator with no outside help. It is the second in the Color Show series, taken from the editor's personal library of 5,000 Kodachrome and Ektachrome 35mm. slides dating back to 1939. We have edited 3,000 slides thus far to produce material sufficient to run the Color Show for several years if we never shot another picture.

Beneath the Norfolk picture the back page carries a reproduction of a national advertisement which illustrates the publicity that Hope is getting from its experimental work in printing process color. The story is going out to every newspaper, daily and weekly, and every commercial printer, in the United States and Canada. For this you can thank Berkeley Photo and its manufacturing and sales subsidiary, Berkeley Technical Corp., New York. We bought their first 8x10 machine; Chicago Tribune bought the second one — so Berkeley is publicizing the two of us.

Experimental work sooner or later produces a tight schedule for the experimenters. We have reached "tight schedule" time. A week ago Billy Dan Jones, our mechanical superintendent, spent three days studying technical problems in preparing and registering copy and pressplates for four-color printing in the biggest commercial printing houses of New Orleans. As a result we are ordering some minor pieces of equipment which will enable The Star to reproduce process color on several pages in the same edition — instead of restricting it to a single page as now.

On Tuesday, June 13, your editor files to Chicago for a three-day clinic studying the technique of using the Densitometer — an electrical measuring device which is a "must" in preparing color separation negatives for publication.

The three-day course — June 14-15-16 at Holiday Inn at Chicago's O'Hare Airport — is sponsored by the Rochester Institute of Technology. One of the lecturers is Albert J. Blanc of the Macbeth Instrument Corp., Newburgh, N. Y., manufacturers of the Macbeth Densitometer which The Star uses.

On Saturday, June 24, your editor and Billy Dan Jones have been invited to address the annual convention of the Arkansas Press Association at the Arlington Hotel in Hot Springs on the subject, "Our Experience with the Berkeley Machine and Color Processing." Bob Chowling, general manager of the Magnolia Banner-News, will introduce us.

The Hot Springs convention will get a preview of something Hope is destined to see later. In the course of readying The Star Building for an Open House and dedication party for off-set and process color we have ordered 30x40 framed Ektachrome prints of our first three color productions: "Hog-Killing Time in Arkansas," "Spring in Arkansas," and the Arkansas House Chamber from our "Color Salute to the Legislature."

These pictures will eventually hang in The Star's office — but they will be shown first to the Arkansas Press Association convention June 24.

Asks Aid for Recreation

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Ben Butler, former Osceola mayor and spokesman for a three-man delegation from East Arkansas, asked Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller Tuesday to help rebuild the Lake Nearek recreational project near Osceola.

Butler estimated it would take $250,000 to restore a dam and complete the project. Rockefeller said he would ask the state Planning Commission to make a recommendation after it studied the project.

The dam was built but was damaged by flooding.

The project's proposed lake would be created along the Mississippi River outside the Arkansas side levee. Butler said 1.5 million persons live within a 50-mile radius of the proposed lake.

$29 Billion Debt Boost Proposed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democrats are stressing uncertainties raised by the Middle East war as they press for House acceptance of a $29 billion boost in the national debt ceiling — biggest proposed single jump since World War II.

Republicans have called for defeat of the proposed new $365-billion borrowing limit, saying congressional rejection would force President Johnson to trim his budget.

As the House debate opened today on the debt ceiling measure, GOP leaders also saw defeat of the administration measure as a way to force Johnson to present the tax hike proposal he has mentioned but hasn't submitted to Congress.

The economy's sluggish pace and the House Ways and Means Committee's heavy work schedule were cited by government officials as causing the delay in presentation of Johnson's proposed six per cent surtax on private and corporate income.

But sources said the request for a tax boost will be sent to Congress in plenty of time for the Ways and Means Committee — originator in Congress of all tax legislation — to consider it. The Israeli-Arab fighting was mentioned repeatedly Tuesday as the House Rules Committee debated, and then cleared for action today, the bill setting the new ceiling.

Chairman Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., of the Ways and Means Committee argued a $29-billion deficit is possible, though not likely, on the basis of Vietnam costs and fiscal possibilities. What additional demands the Middle East fighting may generate, he added, cannot even be guessed now.

In addition to giving the Treasury more borrowing power to cover continuing deficits, the bill would make a limited change in interest ceilings to facilitate the sale of certain government securities.

Under present law, government bonds with maturities longer than five years may not be sold at higher than 4 1/2 per cent interest. Notes which mature in shorter intervals are not so limited.

Action of UN Could Keep U.S. From Any Military Involvement

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
AP Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.N. Security Council call for a cease-fire in the Middle East strengthened the possibility today that the United States can avoid military involvement in the Arab-Israeli war.

It also contributes to prospects the war may be contained in that area and that a U.S.-Soviet military confrontation there will not develop.

Overcoming these two perils has appeared a major objective of President Johnson since the war broke out unexpectedly Monday morning. This objective lay behind the statement of a neutral policy first made at the State Department a few hours after the fighting started. It also guided later efforts to back away from the neutrality idea without actually abandoning it.

There has been concern here that if the conflict continued too long or if it began to turn out badly for Israel the pressures on the United States to give Israel some kind of military assistance would become very great.

Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser has talked about destroying Israel completely. It has never been suggested that Israel could destroy the Arab States, however, and Israel has said it seeks to annex no new territory.

The debate over neutrality which arose here Monday obscured rather than clarified U.S. policy toward the conflict. In part this seems to have resulted from official explanations at a time when officials wished to avoid getting pinned down to any course of action other than President Johnson's chosen way through the United Nations.

The first comment from a

Text of LBJ's Statement

WASHINGTON (AP) — This is the text of the statement President Johnson issued Tuesday night on the Middle East situation:

The cease-fire vote of the Security Council opens a hopeful path away from danger in the Middle East. It reflects responsible concern for peace on the part of all who voted for it. The United States has warmly supported this resolution. We hope the parties directly concerned will promptly act upon it. We believe a cease-fire is the necessary "first step," in the words of the resolution itself — a first step toward what we all must hope will be a new time of settled peace and progress for all the peoples of the Middle East.

It is toward this end that we shall now strive.

LBJ's Rail Strike Plan to Senate

By JOE HALL

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's proposal to sidetrack a threatened nationwide rail strike steams toward Senate debate with Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield expressing hope the measure will be in House hands by Thursday.

Mansfield called for a morning debate on the bill and put aside another measure — on congressional redistricting — originally slated to occupy the Senate today.

Mansfield said he felt the Senate had to dispose of the rail plan this week because the Senate is expected to devote most of next week to debating a resolution to censure Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn.

Congress already has voted two extensions of the no strike no lockout period in the dispute between six shopcraft unions and railroads handling about 95 per cent of the nation's rail traffic.

The present extension runs out June 19.

The administration contends that with a war on in Vietnam,

Vietnam War Near Standstill

By GEORGE MCARTHUR

SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. Command reported today that fighting in Vietnam had slackened to its lowest level this year with only scattered ground skirmishes and relatively few air strikes against North Vietnam.

Despite the lull, losses were sustained in small flights and a Navy Crusader jet was lost to ground fire over the Communist North. The pilot parachuted and was picked up in the Tonkin Gulf only 18 minutes after he splashed down. It was the 573rd U.S. combat plane reported lost in North Vietnam.

Officers denied that the lull in the war was due in any way to the fighting in the Middle East, but it appeared that neither side viewed this as a propitious moment for any dramatic moves.

American warplanes penetrated into the heavily fortified heartland of North Vietnam again Tuesday, raiding rail lines leading from Hanoi to Red China. Only 88 missions were flown, compared with about 125 on recent normal days.

The U.S. Command reported that not since the first of the year had there been a comparable lull in the ground war. For the past four days the U.S. military communique has said, "No significant contact with the enemy was reported."

Group Finds Zoning Rules Violated

The Hope City Planning Commission at its regular meeting on Tuesday night disclosed that the Foster Land and Realty Company had violated the zoning regulations in re-locating its office on East Third Street. There was no representative from the realty company present, and the matter was passed without action until all parties in interest could be present.

The matter came to light in connection with a request from Hendrix Spraggins that other property further down on East Third be rezoned for a similar use. It was disclosed that the Foster firm had remodeled an existing residence, and was using it for commercial purposes, without first having the location rezoned. Under regulations, a building permit is not required for remodeling, as for new construction, and city officials had no opportunity to review the matter before the work was done.

In other action the Commission approved the re-zoning of certain property on Highway 4 north for business use, and recommending the closing of a portion of Johnson street which has never been opened.

Action of the Spraggins request for rezoning was deferred pending the filing of the proper papers. The City Planning Commission meets on the first Tuesday night of each month.

Jordan Seeks Cease-fire; Arab Front Cracks; Israel Troops Go Deep Into Egypt

Says Officer Could Aid U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Wayne L. Hays, noting Israel's reported military successes against its Arab foes, proposed a baseball-style U.S.-Israel trade.

"I think we ought to offer Israel 400 F-101 airplanes for that one-eyed general," the Ohio Democrat told the House Tuesday, referring to Gen. Moshe Dayan, Israel's defense minister.

"Maybe he could take care of things in Vietnam the way he's doing in the Middle East," Hays said.

Diplomats Seek Quick Cease-fire

By Lewis Gulick

WASHINGTON (AP) — Led by a public appeal from President Johnson, U.S. diplomats sought quick Israeli acceptance today of the Middle East cease-fire proposed by the U.N. Security Council.

Johnson hoped for Arab agreement, too, and there were unconfirmed diplomatic reports that Jordan had put out discreet feelers asking the United States to arrange with Israel for a cease-fire.

Johnson's diplomatic leverage with Arab states was sinking fast, however, as one after another lined up to follow Egypt in formally breaking relations with the United States.

This left to the Soviets and others still in good standing in the Arab camp to exert influence there in behalf of the unanimous U.N. call — while Washington struggled with arrangements to evacuate thousands of Americans from the tinderbox Middle East.

Immediately after the Security Council okayed the cease-fire appeal agreed on by the Soviet Union and the United States, Johnson went on nationwide radio and television Tuesday night to hail this "hopeful path away from danger in the Middle East."

"We hope the parties directly concerned will promptly act upon it," the President said in a brief statement.

"We believe a cease-fire is the necessary 'first step,' in the words of the resolution itself — a first step toward what we all must hope will be a new time of settled peace and progress for all the peoples of the Middle East."

"It is toward this end that we shall now strive."

Jordan, hard hit on the battlefield, was reported to have put out its cease-fire feelers but the State Department and the Jordanian Embassy in Washington each refused to confirm or deny the reports from diplomatic sources. Reportedly the move came before the Security Council action.

A number of other Arab states followed Egypt in snapping diplomatic ties with Washington amid charges — denied by the United States — that U.S. planes had joined Israeli forces in the war.

Algeria's official notice breaking relations arrived at the State Department late Tuesday, a few hours after Cairo's. U.S. officials said preliminary reports indicated at least Syria, Sudan, Yemen and Iraq would follow.

Conditional Acceptance by Israel

By WILLIAM N. OATIS
UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The Soviet Union asked the U.N. Security Council to set a deadline of 4 p.m. EDT today for Israel and the Arab countries to cease firing.

At a hurriedly called meeting of the 15-nation council, Soviet Ambassador Nikolai T. Fedorenko repeated his charges that Israel was the aggressor in the Middle East conflict and was to blame for the failure of Tuesday night's U.N. cease-fire to get into effect immediately.

Jordan has notified the United Nations of its acceptance, but no word had been received up to early afternoon from any other party to the fighting. Cairo radio said the Arab countries would keep on fighting despite the resolution.

The council adopted the resolution by vote of all 11 of its 15 members Tuesday night about 40 hours after the outbreak of fighting.

The Arab response was complicated by the stiff conditions Israel set.

G&F Hearing on Misconduct Is Delayed

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller said Tuesday that he has been advised that it may take as much as 30 to 35 days to schedule a hearing into charges of misconduct on the part of some Game and Fish Commission members.

Rockefeller told reporters Friday that details on the hearing would be worked out by this week or next. He said Tuesday he may have been too enthusiastic when he suggested the early date.

The governor said he had not heard from Judge Andrew Ponder, president of the state Judiciary Council. Rockefeller said he asked Ponder to suggest three persons, one of whom might act as a hearing officer.

Rockefeller said that he wanted someone other than himself to serve as the hearing officer since, "I think it only appropriate that the governor not be the plaintiff and the judge."

AP News Digest

MIDDLE EAST

The U.N. Security Council calls for a cease-fire. Israel makes more big gains against Egypt and Jordan.

Led by President Johnson's public appeal, U.S. diplomats seek quick Israeli acceptance of the cease-fire proposal. Jordan reportedly has put out feelers asking the United States to arrange an immediate truce with Israel.

The United Nations awaits compliance by the warring countries with the cease-fire call.

The possibility of U.S. avoidance of military involvement in the war is strengthened by the cease-fire move.

The Israeli armored columns have moved so fast they may reach key Arab objectives before the proposed cease-fire could take effect, American military sources say.

The Middle East will remain politically explosive and a danger to world peace until the problem of the Arab refugees from Israel is solved.

Cairo Admits Military Setbacks

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Israeli forces, apparently running roughshod over the Egyptian army, announced today the capture of the strategic Sharm el Sheikh heights overlooking the entrance to the Gulf of Aqaba — in effect breaking Gamal Abdel Nasser's blockade.

They reported also an advance to a point 20 miles from the Suez Canal.

On the northern front, Jordan sought a cease-fire as an echo to the Israelis' capture of Old Jerusalem.

The twin Israel advances in Egypt placed their armies almost at the identical points they won during the 1956 war with Egypt.

Egyptian occupation of Sharm el Sheikh was the flash-point of this war, now in its third day. At the head of the Gulf of Aqaba lies Elath.

To reach Sharm el Sheikh, Israeli forces had to race more than 125 miles down the Sinai Peninsula.

Cairo radio reported an announcement by the Egyptian High Command that forces at Sharm el Sheikh "have rejoined our main forces in the defensive positions in Sinai."

The Israelis seized the Arab quarter of Jerusalem — revered by Christian, Jew and Moslem — after a hard "seven-hour" battle with infantry, tanks and planes on the outskirts.

The Israeli army also reported capture of the key Jordanian town of Nablus, 30 miles north of Jerusalem, and said it took two more towns in the Jordanian bulge into Israel. Amman radio reported heavy fighting also to the south of the bulge, along the Israeli-Jordanian border at the west bank of the Jordan river.

There was no word from the Israeli command of new advances in Sinai, but the Egyptian high command announced that its forces there were now fighting on their "second defensive line."

The communique said the Egyptians "have evacuated some of our positions in the front line for regrouping due to enemy air strikes supported by foreign forces," a reiteration of the charge denied by the U.S. and British governments Tuesday.

Cairo Radio in an earlier broadcast flouted the Security Council action, declaring that the Arab countries were determined to fight on despite the call for a cease-fire. But Jordan, even before the council acted, was reported asking the U.S. government to arrange a truce.

Saudi Arabia, the Middle East's second biggest oil producer, has decided to cut off oil sales at once to "the countries that are helping Israel in its aggression," Beirut Radio reported. This presumably was aimed at the United States and Britain, accused by the Arab countries of aiding Israel.
